Approved by the Lieutenant Governor in Council,
Order in Council No. 764/96,

This Provincial Policy Statement was issued under Section 3 of the Planning Act and came into effect on May 22nd, 1996
It replaces the Comprehensive Set of Policy Statements.

Italicized terms are defined in the Definitions section. For other terms, the normal meaning of the words applies. In certain cases, terms are italicized only in specific policies. For these terms, the defined meaning applies where they are italicized and the normal meaning applies where they are not italicized.

I PREAMBLE

This Policy Statement is issued under the authority of Section 3 of the Planning Act. It provides policy direction on matters of provincial interest related to land use planning and development. The policies focus on the key provincial interests related to land use planning. These policies will be complemented by locally-generated policies regarding matters of local interest.

Section 3 of the Planning Act requires that, in exercising any authority that affects planning matters, planning authorities "shall have regard to" policy statements issued under the Act.

The Policy Statement is intended to promote a policy-led system which recognizes that there are complex inter-relationships among environmental, economic and social factors in land use planning.

A healthy economy is vital to Ontario's ongoing prosperity. Wisely managed growth can result in communities which are economically and environmentally sound, and which meet the full range of needs of their current and future residents. Doing things right the first time can avoid the need for costly remedial measures to correct problems.

The Province's resources - its agricultural land base, mineral resources, natural heritage resources, water supply and cultural heritage resources - provide economic, environmental and social benefits. The wise use and protection of these resources over the long term is a key provincial interest.

Equally, the Province has an interest in protecting the long term health and safety of the population, and the financial and economic well-being of the Province and municipalities.

II PRINCIPLES

Ontario's long term economic prosperity, environmental health and social well-being depend on:

1. managing change and promoting efficient, cost-effective development and land use patterns which stimulate economic growth and protect the environment and public health;
2. protecting resources for their economic use and/or environmental benefits; and
3. reducing the potential for public cost or risk to Ontario's residents by directing development away from areas where there is a risk to public health or safety or of property damage.

III POLICIES

It is the policy of the Province of Ontario that:

1. Efficient, cost-effective development and land use patterns

1.1 Developing strong communities

1.1.1 Subject to the provisions of policy 1.1.2, cost-effective development patterns will be promoted. Accordingly:

- a) Urban areas and rural settlement areas (cities, towns, villages and hamlets) will be the focus of growth;
- b) Rural areas will generally be the focus of resource activity, resource-based recreational activity and other rural land uses;
- c) Urban areas and rural settlement areas will be expanded only where existing designated areas in the municipality do not have sufficient land supply to accommodate the growth projected for the municipality. Land requirements will be determined in accordance with policy 1.1.2.

The policies of Section 2: Resources, and Section 3: Public Health and Safety will be applied in the determination of the most appropriate direction for expansions. Expansions into prime agricultural areas are permitted only where:

1. there are no reasonable alternatives which avoid prime agricultural areas; and
2. there are no reasonable alternatives with lower priority agricultural lands in the prime agricultural area;
- d) Development and land use patterns that would hinder the efficient expansion of urban areas or rural settlement areas are not permitted in adjacent areas;
- e) A coordinated approach should be achieved when dealing with issues which cross municipal boundaries, including:
  1. infrastructure and public service facilities;
  2. ecosystem and watershed related issues;
  3. shoreline and riverine hazards; and
  4. housing and employment projections, based on housing market areas.

Where upper tier planning takes place, projections for municipalities will be coordinated and allocated by upper tier governments, in consultation with lower tier governments;

- f) Development and land use patterns which may cause environmental or public health and safety concerns will be avoided; and
- g) In territory without municipal organization, the focus of development activity will be resource activities and resource-based recreational activities, with the following restrictions:
  1. The establishment of new permanent townships is not permitted; and
  2. Development other than resource activity and resource-based recreational activity will be restricted in the area adjacent to and surrounding municipalities unless:
    - the area forms part of a planning area, and
    - it has been determined, as part of a comprehensive planning exercise, that the impacts of growth will not place an undue strain on the public service facilities and infrastructure of the adjacent municipality.

1.1.2 Land requirements and land use patterns will be based on:

- a) the provision of sufficient land for industrial, commercial, residential, recreational, open space and institutional uses to promote employment opportunities, and for an appropriate range and mix of housing, to accommodate growth projected for a time horizon of up to 20 years. (However, where a longer time period has been established for specific areas of the Province as a result of a comprehensive provincial planning exercise, such as that coordinated by the Province in the Greater Toronto Area, that time frame may be used for upper and lower tier municipalities within the area);
- b) densities which:
  - 1. efficiently use land, resources, infrastructure and public service facilities;
  - 2. avoid the need for unnecessary and/or uneconomical expansion of infrastructure;
  - 3. support the use of public transit, in areas where it exists or is to be developed;
  - 4. are appropriate to the type of sewage and water systems which are planned or available; and
  - 5. take into account the applicable policies of Section 2: Resources, and Section 3: Public Health and Safety;
- c) the provision of a range of uses in areas which have existing or planned infrastructure to accommodate them;
- d) development standards which are cost effective and which will minimize land consumption and reduce servicing costs; and
- e) providing opportunities for redevelopment, intensification and revitalization in areas that have sufficient existing or planned infrastructure.

1.1.3 Long term economic prosperity will be supported by:

- a) making provisions such that infrastructure and public service facilities will be available to accommodate projected growth;
- b) providing a supply of land to meet long term requirements, in accordance with policy 1.1.2;
- c) providing for an efficient, cost-effective, reliable, multi-modal transportation system that is integrated with adjacent systems and those of other jurisdictions and is appropriate to address expected growth;
- d) conserving energy and water by providing for energy and water efficiency;
- e) maintaining the well-being of downtowns and main-streets;
- f) optimizing the long-term availability and the use of agricultural and other resources; and
- g) planning so that major facilities (such as airports, transportation corridors, sewage treatment facilities, waste management systems, industries and aggregate activities) and sensitive land uses are appropriately designed, buffered and/or separated from each other to prevent adverse effects from odour, noise and other contaminants.

1.2 Housing

1.2.1 Provision will be made in all planning jurisdictions for a full range of housing types and densities to meet projected demographic and market requirements of current and future residents of the housing market area by:

- a) maintaining at all times at least a 10-year supply of land designated and available for new residential development and residential intensification;
- b) maintaining at all times, where new development is to occur, at least a 3-year supply of residential units with servicing capacity in draft approved or registered plans;
- c) encouraging housing forms and densities designed to be affordable to moderate and lower income households;
- d) encouraging all forms of residential intensification in parts of built-up areas that have sufficient existing or planned infrastructure to create a potential supply of new housing units available from residential intensification; and
- e) establishing cost-effective development standards for new residential development and redevelopment to reduce the cost of housing.

1.3 Infrastructure

1.3.1 Sewage and Water Systems

1.3.1.1 Planning for sewage and water systems will recognize that:

- a) full municipal sewage and water services are the preferred form of servicing for urban areas and rural settlement areas. In areas serviced by full municipal sewage and water services, lot creation will be permitted only if sufficient reserve water and sewage plant capacity will be available to accommodate it;
- b) communal services are the preferred means of servicing multiple lots/units in areas where full municipal sewage and water services are not or cannot be provided, where site conditions are suitable over the long term; and
- c) lot/unit creation may be serviced by individual on-site systems where the use of communal systems is not feasible and where site conditions are suitable over the long term; but
- d) partial services will be discouraged except where necessary to address failed services, or because of physical constraints.

1.3.2 Transportation

1.3.2.1 Transportation systems will be provided which are safe, environmentally sensitive, and energy efficient.

1.3.3 Transportation Corridors and Infrastructure Corridors

1.3.3.1 Corridors and rights-of-way for significant transportation and infrastructure facilities will be protected.

1.3.4 Waste Management

1.3.4.1 Waste management systems need to be provided that are of an appropriate size and type to accommodate present and future requirements, and will be located and designed in accordance with provincial standards and legislation.

2. Resources*2.1 Agricultural Policies

- 2.1.1 Prime agricultural areas will be protected for agriculture. Permitted uses and activities in these areas are: agricultural uses; secondary uses; and agriculture-related uses.

Proposed new secondary uses and agriculture-related uses will be compatible with, and will not hinder, surrounding agricultural operations.

- 2.1.2 Lot creation in prime agricultural areas is generally discouraged and will be permitted only in the following situations:

- a) new lots for agricultural uses may be permitted provided that they are of a size appropriate for the type of agricultural use(s) common in the area and are sufficiently large to maintain flexibility for future changes in the type or size of agricultural operation;
- b) new lots may be permitted for agriculture-related uses; and
- c) new lots for residential uses may be permitted for:
  - 1. a farm retirement lot;
  - 2. a residence surplus to a farming operation; and
  - 3. residential infilling.

Any new lot for residential uses will be limited to a minimum size needed to accommodate the residence and an appropriate sewage and water system.

- 2.1.3 An area may be excluded from prime agricultural areas only for:

- a) an expansion of an urban area or rural settlement area, in accordance with policy 1.1.1c);
- b) extraction of mineral resources, in accordance with policy 2.2; and
- c) limited non-residential uses, provided that:
  - 1. there is a demonstrated need for additional land to be designated to accommodate the proposed use;
  - 2. there are no reasonable alternative locations which avoid prime agricultural areas; and
  - 3. there are no reasonable alternative locations in prime agricultural areas with lower priority agricultural lands.

Impacts from any new non-agricultural uses on surrounding agricultural operations and lands will be mitigated.

- 2.1.4 New land uses, including the creation of lots, and new or expanding livestock facilities will comply with the minimum distance separation formulae.

- 2.1.5 In prime agricultural areas, agricultural uses and normal farm practices will be promoted and protected.

2.2 Mineral Resources: Mineral Aggregates, Minerals, Petroleum Resources

- 2.2.1 Mineral resources (mineral aggregates, minerals and petroleum resources) will be protected for long term use.

2.2.2 Minerals and Petroleum Resources

- 2.2.2.1 Mineral mining operations and petroleum resource operations will be protected from activities that would preclude or hinder their expansion or continued use or which would be incompatible for reasons of public health, public safety or environmental impact.

- 2.2.2.2 In areas adjacent to or in known mineral deposits or known petroleum resources, and in areas of mineral potential, development which would preclude or hinder the establishment of new operations or access to the resources will only be permitted if:

- a) resource use would not be feasible; or
- b) the proposed land uses or development serves a greater long term public interest; and
- c) issues of public health, public safety and environmental impact are addressed.

- 2.2.2.3 Rehabilitation to accommodate subsequent land uses will be required after extraction and other related activities have ceased. Progressive rehabilitation will be undertaken where feasible.

- 2.2.2.4 Extraction of minerals and petroleum resources is permitted in prime agricultural areas, provided that the site is rehabilitated.

2.2.3 Mineral Aggregates

- 2.2.3.1 As much of the mineral aggregate resources as is realistically possible will be made available to supply mineral resource needs, as close to markets as possible.

- 2.2.3.2 Mineral aggregate operations will be protected from activities that would preclude or hinder their expansion or continued use or which would be incompatible for reasons of public health, public safety or environmental impact. Existing mineral aggregate operations will be permitted to continue without the need for official plan amendment, rezoning or development permit under the Planning Act.

- 2.2.3.3 In areas adjacent to or in known deposits of mineral aggregates, development which would preclude or hinder the establishment of new operations or access to the resources will only be permitted if:

- a) resource use would not be feasible; or
- b) the proposed land uses or development serves a greater long term public interest; and
- c) issues of public health, public safety and environmental impact are addressed.

- 2.2.3.4 Wayside pits and quarries and portable asphalt plants used on public authority contracts will be permitted, without the need for official plan amendment, rezoning, or development permit under the Planning Act in all areas, except those areas of existing development or particular environmental sensitivity which have been determined to be incompatible with extraction and associated activities.

- 2.2.3.5 Progressive rehabilitation to accommodate subsequent land uses will be required.

- 2.2.3.6 In prime agricultural areas, on prime agricultural land, extraction of mineral aggregates is permitted as an interim use provided that rehabilitation of the site will be carried out whereby substantially the same areas and same average soil quality for agriculture are restored.

On these prime agricultural lands, complete agricultural rehabilitation is not required if:

- a) there is a substantial quantity of mineral aggregates below the water table warranting extraction; or
- b) the depth of planned extraction in a quarry makes restoration of pre-extraction agricultural capability unfeasible; and
- c) other alternatives have been considered by the applicant and found unsuitable<sup>1</sup>; and
- d) agricultural rehabilitation in remaining areas will be maximized.

2.3 Natural Heritage

2.3.1 Natural heritage features and areas will be protected from incompatible development.

- a) Development and site alteration will not be permitted in:
  - significant wetlands south and east of the Canadian Shield<sup>2</sup>, and
  - significant portions of the habitat of endangered and threatened species.

- b) Development and site alteration may be permitted in:
  - fish habitat,
  - significant wetlands in the Canadian Shield<sup>2</sup>,
  - significant woodlands south and east of the Canadian Shield<sup>2</sup>,
  - significant valleylands south and east of the Canadian Shield<sup>2</sup>,
  - significant wildlife habitat, and
  - significant areas of natural and scientific interest, if it has been demonstrated that there will be no negative impacts on the natural features or the ecological functions for which the area is identified.

2.3.2 Development and site alteration may be permitted on adjacent lands to a) and b) if it has been demonstrated that there will be no negative impacts on the natural features or on the ecological functions for which the area is identified.

2.3.3 The diversity of natural features in an area, and the natural connections between them should be maintained, and improved where possible.

2.3.4 Nothing in policy 2.3 is intended to limit the ability of agricultural uses to continue.

2.4 Water Quality and Quantity

2.4.1 The quality and quantity of ground water and surface water and the function of sensitive ground water recharge/discharge areas, aquifers and headwaters will be protected or enhanced.

2.5 Cultural Heritage and Archaeological Resources

2.5.1 Significant built heritage resources and cultural heritage landscapes will be conserved.

2.5.2 Development and site alteration may be permitted on lands containing archaeological resources or areas of archaeological potential if significant archaeological resources have been conserved by removal and documentation, or preservation on site. Where significant archaeological resources must be preserved on site, only development and site alteration which maintain the heritage integrity of the site will be permitted.

3. Public Health and Safety

3.1 Natural Hazards

3.1.1 Development will generally be directed to areas outside of:

- a) hazardous lands adjacent to the shorelines of the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence River System and large inland lakes which are impacted by flooding, erosion, and/or dynamic beach hazards;
- b) hazardous lands adjacent to river and stream systems which are impacted by flooding and/or erosion hazards; and
- c) hazardous sites.

3.1.2 Development and site alteration will not be permitted within:

- a) defined portions of the dynamic beach;
- b) defined portions of the one hundred year flood level along connecting channels (the St. Mary's, St. Clair, Detroit, Niagara and St. Lawrence Rivers); and
- c) a floodway (except in those exceptional situations where a Special Policy Area has been approved).

3.1.3 Except as provided in policy 3.1.2, development and site alteration may be permitted in hazardous lands and hazardous sites, provided that all of the following can be achieved:

- a) the hazards can be safely addressed, and the development and site alteration is carried out in accordance with established standards and procedures;
- b) new hazards are not created and existing hazards are not aggravated;
- c) no adverse environmental impacts will result;
- d) vehicles and people have a way of safely entering and exiting the area during times of flooding, erosion and other emergencies; and
- e) the development does not include institutional uses or essential emergency services or the disposal, manufacture, treatment or storage of hazardous substances.

3.2 Human-made hazards

3.2.1 Development on, abutting or adjacent to lands affected by mine hazards or former mineral resource operations will be permitted only if rehabilitation measures to address and mitigate known or suspected hazards are under-way or have been completed.

3.2.2 Contaminated sites will be restored as necessary prior to any activity on the site associated with the proposed use such that there will be no adverse effect.

1. Other alternatives include resources in areas of classes 4 to 7 agricultural lands, resources on lands committed to future urban uses, and resources on prime agricultural lands where rehabilitation to agriculture is possible.

2. Areas south and east of the Canadian Shield are shown on Figure 1

IV IMPLEMENTATION/INTERPRETATION

1. The Provincial Policy Statement came into effect on the date of proclamation of Bill 20, and applies to all applications submitted after that date. Planning authorities "shall have regard to" the policy statement in making decisions on all applications submitted on or after the proclamation date, and to all applications which were commenced on or after March 28, 1995 and in respect of which no decision had been made on the date of proclamation. The Provincial Policy Statement replaces the Comprehensive Set of Policy Statements.

Section 75 of the Planning Act provides when an application is considered to have commenced and when a decision is considered to have been made for the purposes of this section.

2. Nothing in this policy statement is intended to prevent planning authorities from going beyond the minimum standards established in specific policies, in developing official plan policies and when making decisions on planning matters, unless doing so would conflict with any other policy.

The Provincial Policy Statement is to be read in its entirety, and all pertinent policies are to be applied to each situation.

3. The Province, in developing and amending provincial plans, will have regard to these policy statements. Provincial plans, such as those adopted under the Ontario Planning and Development Act, 1994 or the Niagara Escarpment Planning and Development Act, which have been approved by the Lieutenant Governor in Council, will take precedence over policies in this statement.

4. These policies are to be applied in dealing with planning matters.

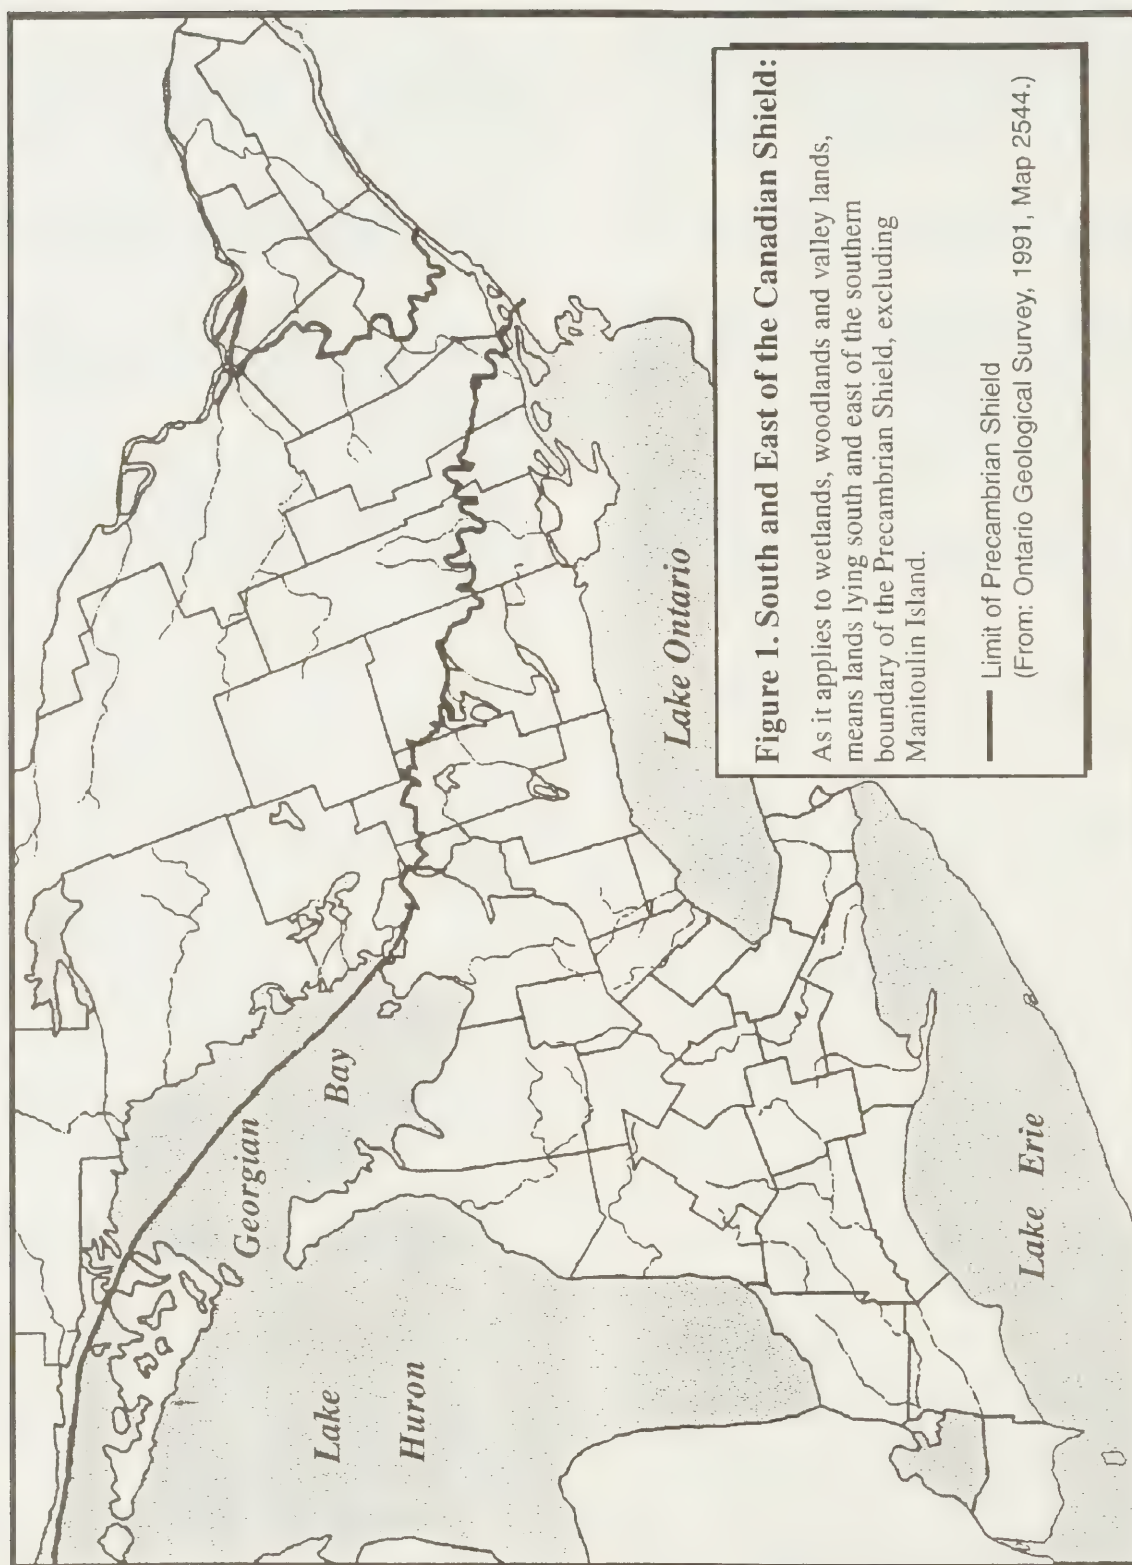

Official plans will integrate all applicable provincial policies and apply appropriate land use designations and policies. Since the policies focus on end results, the official plan is the most important vehicle for the implementation of the Policy Statement.

5. Infrastructure may be authorized under legislation other than or in addition to the Planning Act. Other authorizing legislation may include the Environmental Assessment Act, the Ontario Energy Board Act, and the Ontario Water Resources Act.

An environmental assessment process may be applied to new infrastructure and modifications to existing infrastructure under applicable legislation. The applicable policies would be considered as part of the evaluation conducted under the relevant environmental assessment process.

6. The Province, in consultation with municipalities, will identify performance indicators for measuring the effectiveness of some or all of the policies, and will monitor their implementation. Municipalities are encouraged to establish performance indicators to monitor the implementation of the policies in their official plans.

DEFINITIONS

means those lands, contiguous to a specific natural heritage feature or area, where it is likely that development or site alteration would have a negative impact on the feature or area. The extent of the adjacent lands may be recommended by the Province or based on municipal approaches which achieve the same objectives.

Adverse effects:

as defined in the Environmental Protection Act, means one or more of:

- impairment of the quality of the natural environment for any use that can be made of it;
- injury or damage to property or plant and animal life;
- harm or material discomfort to any person;
- an adverse effect on the health of any person;
- impairment of the safety of any person;
- rendering any property or plant or animal life unfit for use by humans;
- loss of enjoyment of normal use of property; and
- interference with normal conduct of business.

Agricultural uses:

means the growing of crops, including nursery and horticultural crops; raising of livestock and other animals for food, or fur, including poultry and fish; aquaculture; agro-forestry; maple syrup production; and associated on-farm buildings and structures.

Agriculture-related uses:

means those farm related commercial and farm-related industrial uses that are small scale and directly related to the farm operation and are required in close proximity to the farm operation.

Areas of archaeological potential:

means areas with medium or high potential for the discovery of archaeological resources. This potential is based on the presence of a wide range of geographic and historical features which influenced past settlement. Archaeological potential is confirmed through archaeological assessment.

Areas of mineral potential:

means areas favourable to the discovery of mineral deposits due to geology, the presence of known mineral deposits or other technical evidence. Areas of mineral potential are identified using accepted scientific methodology.

Areas of natural and scientific interest (ANSI):

means areas of land and water containing natural landscapes or features that have been identified as having life science or earth science values related to protection, scientific study, or education.

Built heritage resources:

means one or more buildings, structures, monuments, installations, or remains associated with architectural, cultural, social, political, economic, or military history, and identified as being important to a community.

Cultural heritage landscape:

means a defined geographical area of heritage significance which has been modified by human activities. Such an area is valued by a community, and is of significance to the understanding of the history of a people or place.

Defined portions of a dynamic beach:

means those portions of the dynamic beach which are highly unstable and/or critical to the natural protection and maintenance of the first main dune feature and/or beach profile, where any development or site alteration would create or aggravate flooding or erosion hazards, cause updrift and/or downdrift impacts and/or cause adverse environmental impacts.

Defined portions of the one hundred year flood level along connecting channels:

means those areas which are critical to the conveyance of the flows associated with the one hundred year flood level along the St. Mary's, St. Clair, Detroit, Niagara and St. Lawrence Rivers, where development or site alteration will create flooding hazards, cause updrift and/or downdrift impacts and/or cause adverse environmental impacts.

Deposits of mineral aggregates:

means an area of identified mineral aggregates that has a sufficient quantity and quality to warrant present or future extraction.

Designated and available:

means, for the purposes of Policy 1.2.1a), designated in the official plan for urban residential use. ## Erosion hazards:

means the loss of land, due to human or natural processes, that poses a threat to life and property. The erosion hazard limit is determined using the 100 year erosion rate (the average annual rate of recession extended over a hundred year time span), an allowance for slope stability, and an erosion allowance.

Essential emergency services:

means services such as those provided by fire, police and ambulance stations and electrical substations, which would be impaired during an emergency as a result of flooding, the failure of flood-proofing measures and/or protection works, and/or erosion.

Established standards and procedures:

means the following:

Floodproofing standard, which means the combination of measures incorporated into the basic design and/or construction of buildings, structures, or properties to reduce or eliminate flooding, wave uprush and other water related hazards along the shorelines of the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence River System and large inland lakes, and floodings along river and stream systems.

Flood plain (for river and stream systems):

means the area, usually low lands adjoining a watercourse, which has been or may be subject to floodings hazards.

means the inundation, under the conditions specified below, of areas adjacent to a shoreline or a river or stream system and not ordinarily covered by water:

- a) Along the shorelines of the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence River System and large inland lakes, the floodings hazard limit is based on the 100 year flood level plus an allowance for wave uprush and other water related hazards.
- b) Along river and stream systems, the floodings hazard limit is the greater of:
  1. the flood resulting from the rainfall actually experienced during a major storm such as the Hurricane Hazel storm (1954) or the Timmins Storm (1961), transposed over a specific watershed and combined with the local conditions, where evidence suggests that the storm event could have potentially occurred over watersheds in the general area;

2. the one hundred year flood; or

3. a flood which is greater than 1) or 2) which was actually experienced in a particular watershed or portion thereof as a result of ice jams and which has been approved as the standard for that specific area by the Minister of Natural Resources.

except where the use of the one hundred year flood or actually experienced event as the standard for a specific watershed has been approved by the Minister of Natural Resources (where the past history of flooding supports the lowering of the standard).

Floodway (for river and stream systems):

means the portion of the flood plain where development (other than uses which by their nature must be located within the floodway, flood and/or erosion control works, or where appropriate, minor additions or passive, non structural uses which do not affect flood flows) and site alteration would cause a danger to public health and safety or property damage.

Where the one zone concept is applied, the floodway is the entire flood plain.

Where the two zone concept is applied, the floodway is the inner portion of the flood plain, representing that area required for the safe passage of flood flow and/or that area where flood depths and/or velocities are considered to be such that they pose a potential threat to life and/or property damage. Where the two zone concept applies, the outer portion of the flood plain is called the flood fringe.

Along the shorelines of the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence River System, this means the land, including that covered by water, between the international boundary, where applicable, and the furthest landward limit of the floodings, erosion or dynamic beach hazard limits. Along the shorelines of large inland lakes, this means the land, including that covered by water, between a defined offshore distance or depth and the furthest landward limit of the floodings, erosion or dynamic beach hazard limits. Along river and stream systems, this means the land, including that covered by water, to the furthest landward limit of the floodings or erosion hazard limits.

Hazardous sites:

These substances generally include a wide array of materials that are toxic, ignitable, corrosive, reactive, radioactive or pathological.

Housing market area:

refers to an area, generally broader than a lower tier municipality, that has a high degree of social and economic interaction. In southern Ontario, the county or regional municipality will normally serve as the housing market area. Where a housing

Workers' Compensation Board Commission des accidents du travail

IN THE MATTER OF Section 95 of the Workers' Compensation Act
R.S.O. 1990, c. W. 11, as amended;

AND IN THE MATTER OF the Addendum to IDSP Report #10, Report to the Workers'
Compensation Board on Cor Pulmonale

REQUEST FOR SUBMISSIONS

Section 95 of the Workers' Compensation Act provides for the creation of an Occupational Disease Panel (the Panel). It is the function of the Panel to:

- investigate possible occupational diseases;
- make findings as to whether a probable connection exists between a disease and an occupational process, trade or occupation in Ontario;
- create, develop and revise criteria for the evaluation of claims respecting occupational diseases; and
- advise on eligibility rules regarding compensation for claims respecting occupational diseases.

On March 5, 1987, the Workers' Compensation Board (WCB) solicited the Panel's advice cor pulmonale. Dr. Elgie, then Chairman of the WCB, requested that the Panel develop, if appropriate, an eligibility rule for cor pulmonale among workers suffering from asbestosis and to indicate under what circumstances survivors should become eligible to benefits.

On July 31, 1992, the Panel provided a report to the WCB entitled Report to the WCB on Cor Pulmonale. The WCB published the report in The Ontario Gazette on September 26, 1992 with a request for comments, briefs and submissions to be filed within 100 days of that date.

Upon review of the comments received, the Chair of the Panel suggested that a special Panel/WCB committee be established with a mandate to develop guidelines to assist adjudicators and physicians in the possible early identification of cor pulmonale. A committee was struck and its final report was submitted to the Panel's meeting of December 6-7, 1995.

On May 10, 1996, the Panel provided the WCB an addendum to its prior report.

Included in this notice are the following:

- the Panel's letter of transmittal
- the Addendum to IDSP Report No. 10, Report to the Workers' Compensation Board on Cor Pulmonale
- References

These documents are available on request from the Occupational Disease Panel and can be obtained by contacting the Occupational Disease Panel, 69 Yonge Street, Suite 1004, Toronto, Ontario M5E 1K3 - (416) 327-4156.

Comments, briefs and submissions must be filed with the Board within 90 days of the date of this notice.

All comments, briefs and submissions related to this report should be sent to Ms. Linda Angove, Secretary of the Board, Workers' Compensation Board, 200 Front Street West, 19th Floor, Toronto, Ontario M5V 3J1.

Notice of the Board's acceptance or rejection, with reasons therefor, will be published in The Ontario Gazette in accordance with subsection 95(15) of the Workers' Compensation Act.

ADDENDUM TO IDSP REPORT NO. 10, REPORT TO THE WORKERS' COMPENSATION BOARD ON COR PULMONALE, APRIL 1996

OCCUPATIONAL DISEASE PANEL
ODP REPORT NO. 10A
TORONTO, ONTARIO

May 10, 1996

Mr. Brock Smith
Acting President and CEO
Workers' Compensation Board
200 Front Street West, 18th Floor
Toronto, Ontario
M5V 3J1

Dear Mr. Smith:

I enclose a copy of the Panel's "ADDENDUM TO IDSP REPORT NO. 10, REPORT TO THE WORKERS' COMPENSATION BOARD ON COR PULMONALE".

This Report is the result of a consultation process between nominees from both the Workers' Compensation Board and the Occupational Disease Panel. It is our hope that we will be able to collaborate in the future to best serve our mutual clients.

I would be pleased to discuss the Report with you at your convenience.

Sincerely,

Nicolette Carlan
Chair

Occupational Disease Panel

When the Workers' Compensation Act was amended in 1985, the Occupational Disease Panel was created. The Panel was set-up to provide the Workers' Compensation Board with scientific and policy advice about the recognition and compensation of work-related diseases. The need for the Panel was identified by several individuals, including Professor Weiler, who studied the workers' compensation system and identified systemic under-compensation of disease claims.

The Panel is a decision-making body that is composed of representatives of the public and the scientific community and technical and professional persons. It has a small staff and is assisted by consultations with renowned experts in the areas of medicine and science.

The statute specifically sets out the following mandate (Workers' Compensation Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. W. 11, s.95):

95(8) It shall be the function of the Panel,

- (a) to investigate possible occupational diseases;
- (b) to make findings as to whether probable connections exist between a disease and an occupational process, trade or occupation in Ontario;
- (c) to create, develop and revise criteria for the evaluation of claims respecting occupational diseases; and
- (d) to advise on eligibility rules regarding compensation for claims respecting occupational diseases.

The Panel provides its advice to the Workers' Compensation Board in the form of Reports of Findings and the Board has the ultimate decision about the implementation of the Panel's recommendations.

To assist with its work the Panel has a small staff of researchers, analysts and support people. In addition to its own staff, the Panel relies heavily on the advice of outside experts in science, medicine and law, as well as on input from interested parties.

ADDENDUM TO IDSP REPORT NO. 10, REPORT TO THE WORKERS' COMPENSATION BOARD ON COR PULMONALE: BACKGROUND

IDSP Report No. 10, Report to the Workers' Compensation Board on Cor Pulmonale was issued in July 1992 and subsequently published in The Ontario Gazette, Vol. 125-39, September 26, 1992 (1).

The issue

During the 90 day period following the Gazette notice, a total of five reviews were invited and received by the Board (2). An unsolicited letter was directed to the Chair of the Panel.

In general, there was support for the Panel's finding of probable connection between compensable respiratory disease and the development of cor pulmonale, and for the proposed strategy of monitoring workers for its development rather than establishing a presumption of work-relatedness. However there was a recognized need for standard criteria to aid in the diagnosis of cor pulmonale, and acknowledgement of the difficulty of attributing exclusive cause of the cor pulmonale to the compensated lung condition. The correlation between the severity of the respiratory disease and the likelihood of the development of cor pulmonale was stressed by several authors.

The course of action

It has always been the intention of the Members of the Occupational Disease Panel to provide advice to the Board that is scientifically accurate, in accordance with the current legislation, and practical in its implementation.

In order to address some of the points raised in the reviews of the Panel's initial report and in informal conversations with Board staff, the Chair of the Panel, in a letter to the Senior Vice-President of Strategic Policy, suggested that a special ODP/WCB joint committee be established (3).

The Board agreed and the Cor Pulmonale Committee was struck, composed of the following members:

Dr. Michael Wills	Occupational Physician, ODP
Dr. A.S. Wardekar	Cardiologist, WCB
Dr. Moira Gribbin	Epidemiologist, WCB
Dr. Michael Hutcheon	Chief of Respiriology, The Toronto Hospital

The mandate of the Committee was to "develop guidelines to assist adjudicators and physicians in the possible early identification of cor pulmonale".

The Board formulated additional questions of its own to be addressed by the Committee: (4)

1. What respiratory diseases are likely to lead to cor pulmonale?
2. How long does it take the respiratory disease(s) in question to progress to cor pulmonale?
3. Is it possible to distinguish work and non-work-related cor pulmonale through medical assessments, and, if so, how?
4. What is the treatment for cor pulmonale apart from treatment of the underlying respiratory condition?

The Panel was pleased to receive the final report of the Cor Pulmonale Committee at the ODP meeting of December 6-7, 1995. It is attached as the "Report of the Cor Pulmonale Committee to the ODP (page 13)" and addresses the issues surrounding standard diagnostic criteria and the above questions.

The Cor Pulmonale Committee devoted considerable time to exploring various diagnostic means of detecting cor pulmonale. While the Panel would not presume to advise medical practitioners as to their choice of procedures, it encourages the Board to share the Committee's document with treating physicians where appropriate and to authorize the recommended testing to aid in the diagnosis where such information is lacking from a file.

The Panel's Recommendations on the Implementation of Report No. 10.

The Panel is grateful for the diligent work of the joint ODP/WCB Committee and feels that the Committee's Report is invaluable in facilitating the sensible implementation of the Panel's initial recommendations.

The Panel is prepared to accept the medical consensus that cor pulmonale would normally occur only late in the course of severe disease. However, it also recognizes, as discussed in IDSP Report No.11 (5), that respiratory disability or impairment can result from several concurrent diseases, of which one or more may not be work-related, due to the cumulative impact on lung function.

Keeping the conclusions of the Committee in mind the Panel:

1. Reiterates its finding of probable connection between compensable respiratory disease and the development of cor pulmonale.

As outlined in the original report, the historical concern, which was also acknowledged by the Chair of the WCB in his original letter of referral, has been that some workers suffering from compensated respiratory disease can and do develop cor pulmonale which worsens their condition during life and may ultimately be listed as their cause of death. Evidence from various sources cited in the ODP's report to the WCB and including the Royal Commission on Asbestos, indicates that such worsening disability and death frequently go unrecognized as related to their compensable condition and hence uncompensated.

The finding of IDSP Report No.10 is listed below:

Finding 1

The Panel finds a probable connection between compensable respiratory disease and the development of cor pulmonale.

In a worker who is entitled to compensation for a sufficiently severe respiratory impairment, the development of cor pulmonale is intimately related to the compensable disease. The issue is whether and when, in such cases, cor pulmonale should attract additional compensation during life and dependency benefits upon death, even in the presence of concomitant non-work-related disease. The issue is not whether such workers die prematurely from the condition, or whether such workers die more frequently from the condition, than the general population.

2. The Panel recommends:

- A. The WCB should investigate the possible existence of cor pulmonale during regular assessments of workers receiving permanent disability benefits for respiratory disease whose total<sup>1</sup> respiratory disability or impairment is equivalent to Class 3 or 4 according to the AMA Guides (6).
- B. Impairment to the cardiovascular system should be combined with the respiratory impairment using the Combined Values Chart of the AMA Guides.

Original recommendation 1a & 1b:<sup>2</sup>

Recommendations No. 1a. and 1b. of IDSP Report No. 10 are listed below:

1. The term total in this recommendation is inclusive of non-compensable respiratory diseases.
2. The Panel regrets the confusion caused by the inadvertent use of the word "bi-annual" in its initial recommendation. Obviously, that is too frequent a follow-up, the original intention being "biennial" or every two years for those pre-Bill 162 workers who are not recommended for regular review.

Recommendations

- 1a. The WCB should investigate the possible existence of cor pulmonale during regular bi-annual assessments of workers receiving benefits for respiratory disease.
- 1b. The WCB should review the entitlement of workers who are receiving benefits for respiratory disease to ensure that their entitlement includes payments for the symptoms of cor pulmonale.

Bill 162, which came into force in full on January 2, 1990, altered the Board's system of compensating workers with permanent impairments. The previous compensation method was based on a clinical rating schedule with compensation levels calculated solely on the basis of degree of physical impairment. Some respiratory claims had scheduled follow-up, as described in Appendix II of the Committee's Report.

Bill 162 instituted a dual award system, with one award, the "non-economic loss" (NEL), intended to compensate for any permanent impairment, and the second, the "future economic loss" (FEL), intended to compensate the injured worker for reduced earning potential. Permanently impaired workers may be eligible for NEL or NEL and FEL awards, the NEL award being comparable to the pre-Bill 162 award for permanent disability. Entitlement for a FEL award is considered if the worker has received temporary total disability benefits for 12 continuous months.

Hence, the implementation of the monitoring recommendation is complicated by the existence of differing categories of claims:

- Pre-Bill 162 workers with a pneumoconiosis claim who are already being followed as outlined in Appendix II of the Committee's Report.
- Pre-Bill 162 workers who were not recommended for regular follow-up
- Post-Bill 162 workers who have received a first Non-Economic Loss (NEL) assessment
- Post-Bill 162 workers who have yet to receive a first NEL assessment.

Recommendations No. 2a. and 2b. of IDSP Report No.10 are listed below:

Recommendations

- 2a. The WCB should investigate the causes of death for all workers who during their lifetimes received benefits for a respiratory disease.
- 2b. The WCB should pay dependency benefits, if the respiratory disease or a consequence of that disease was a significant factor in the cause of the worker's death or was the sole cause of the death.

Under the current system (post-Bill 162) there is no mechanism for regular follow-up to reassess the degree of impairment after the NEL assessment except at the initiation of the worker. Therefore, the Board will need to develop guidelines for monitoring post-Bill 162 workers who qualify under the cor pulmonale policy to ensure equity between pre-and post-Bill 162 claims.

The Panel suggests that such screening could occur at the following intervals:

Pre-Bill 162 Workers

- |                                                                                |                          |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------|
| • with a pneumoconiosis claim                                                  | at least every two years |
| • with an accepted respiratory claim which does not require ongoing monitoring | at least every two years |

Post-Bill 162 Workers

- |                    |                          |
|--------------------|--------------------------|
| • before NEL award | prior to assessment      |
| • with a NEL award | at least every two years |

This screening should facilitate implementation of recommendation 1b (please see p.6). The medical findings should be provided to the worker's treating physician so that proper treatment can be enhanced. Proper diagnosis of the existence of cor pulmonale should result in fairer compensation for workers suffering from multiple impairments.

Original recommendation 2a & 2b.

Adjudication of such claims involving cor pulmonale should proceed on a case-by-case basis. The testing that has been recommended by the Committee should help correct the adjudicatory problems surrounding cause of death in these cases.

The Panel accepts the conclusion of the Cor Pulmonale Committee that it is not possible to distinguish between work-related and non-work-related cor pulmonale. The Panel is also guided by Section 3(4) of the Workers' Compensation Act:

- 3(4) In determining any claim under this Act, the decision shall be made in accordance with the real merits and justice of the case and where it is not practicable to determine an issue because the evidence for or against the issue is approximately equal in weight, the issue shall be resolved in favour of the claimant (7).

REPORT OF THE COR PULMONALE COMMITTEE TO THE ODP: INTRODUCTION

In July of 1992 the Occupational Disease Panel (ODP) - formerly the Industrial Disease Standards Panel - issued a Report to the Workers' Compensation Board on Cor Pulmonale(1). The recommendations of the IDSP on cor pulmonale are listed in Table 1. After publication of the IDSP Report on Cor Pulmonale in The Ontario Gazette, the Chair of the Panel proposed the formation of a joint Panel-Board committee, with perhaps an independent expert participating, to "develop guidelines to assist adjudicators and physicians in the possible early identification of cor pulmonale" (2). The Workers' Compensation Board (WCB) subsequently agreed and presented to the ODP additional questions about cor pulmonale of occupational origin. These additional questions are listed in Table 2. The committee (Appendix I) composed of an ODP Panel Member, a member of the academic community and two from the WCB, met three times over the ensuing two years, reviewed extensive material both individually and collectively and revised several draft documents. This report to the ODP represents a Committee consensus. The Committee's report should be of help in the implementation of the recommendations of the original IDSP Report on Cor Pulmonale, by providing advice as to methods for diagnosing and monitoring cor pulmonale and its precursor condition of pulmonary hypertension. The report also attempts to address the questions raised by the Board as outlined in Table 2.

a. Definition of cor pulmonale

Cor pulmonale is defined as hypertrophy of the right ventricle that results from diseases affecting the function and structure of the lung, except when these pulmonary alterations are the result of diseases that primarily affect the left side of the heart, or are from congenital heart disease (3). However, it has been proposed that the term cor pulmonale should be abandoned in favour of a more precise definition that is based on objective evidence of right ventricular hypertrophy, enlargement, functional abnormality or failure (4). As MacNee points out, the problem of defining cor pulmonale produces considerable difficulties when comparing patients from different studies (4).

This Committee report uses the term cor pulmonale as defined according to the World Health Organization (3).

b. Diagnosis of cor pulmonale

Cor pulmonale is difficult to diagnose on clinical grounds because signs and symptoms are late and non-specific (5). The symptoms may include dyspnea, orthopnea, fatigue and dizziness. When the right ventricle fails the clinician may measure weight gain, abdominal distention and peripheral edema. The clinical criteria are considered very insensitive and are present late in the disease course.

The effect of pulmonary hypertension, right ventricular enlargement and/or right ventricular hypertrophy on the left ventricle is not clear. Usually left ventricular function is not affected. Although the conventional view is that the two ventricles are independent they are in fact part of the same muscle bundle and pericardium, share a common wall, and are enclosed within the pericardium. Increased pressure in the right ventricle may displace the septum into the left ventricle encroaching on its lumen and modifying left ventricular volume and pressure.

The most common cause of right ventricular failure is left ventricular failure. If there is significant left ventricular failure present it is considered to be the cause of the right ventricular failure, rather than the effect. If biventricular failure is detected along with the presence of significant respiratory disease (Class 3-4 AMA guidelines) one has to determine a relative contribution of the lung disease in causing the right ventricular failure to ensure appropriate treatment.

c. Physical examination

On examination there may be a parasternal lift indicating right ventricular hypertrophy, an increased  $P_2$  component of  $S_2$  and a right ventricular  $S_4$ . When the right ventricle fails there are additional findings such as jugulovenous distension, hepatojugular reflux, a right ventricular  $S_3$  gallop, pulmonary and tricuspid regurgitant murmurs, hepatomegaly, ascites and peripheral edema. These latter findings are of advanced disease (6).

d. Investigations of cor pulmonale

The investigation to determine the presence of right ventricular hypertrophy and pulmonary arterial hypertension should be simple, not expensive, non-invasive and therefore repeatable without harm to the patient. The tests should be sensitive and specific enough and should be available in most hospitals.

The gold standard for measuring pulmonary arterial hypertension is cardiac catheterization. However, cardiac catheterization is invasive, risky, and not easily repeated for follow-up. It also requires specially trained personnel and laboratory back-up. Magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) measures other evidence of pulmonary artery hypertension and cor pulmonale, such as right ventricular volume and right ventricular wall hypertrophy. However, MRIs are costly and not easily available.

Table 3 lists a number of investigations which can be used to assess the severity of underlying pulmonary disease along with information regarding right ventricular function and pulmonary arterial pressure. These test measurements should correlate well with measurements of right pulmonary arterial blood pressure or right ventricular systolic pressure if they are to be of value.

Many of the tests listed in this table either lack sensitivity or specificity (e.g. chest x-ray, ECG) or are not easily available (First Pass Radiolabeled Angiography, MRI, Radioactive Thallium). Although cor pulmonale has at its root hypoxemia and reduced pulmonary vascular bed, resting arterial blood gas values may not reflect risk. Arterial blood gases may decrease with exercise and sleep and these decreases can be detected by monitoring of arterial blood gases continuously for 24 hours.

After thoroughly reviewing the spectrum of procedures available, the Committee is of the unanimous opinion that two-dimensional (2D) echocardiography with Doppler flow study is the most useful and readily available measurement of right ventricular systolic pressure and right ventricular size.

THE QUESTIONS POSED TO THE COMMITTEE BY THE BOARD

1. What respiratory diseases are likely to lead to cor pulmonale?

Cor pulmonale can be considered acute or chronic. This report excludes consideration of acute causes such as pulmonary embolism.

The respiratory disorders predisposing to chronic cor pulmonale are tabulated according to Fishman (7) in Table 4. Amongst all conditions causing chronic cor pulmonale, the most common is obstructive lung disease.

According to the Committee members from the WCB, the common occupational conditions causing cor pulmonale, in descending order of frequency, are the pneumoconioses, chronic obstructive lung disease and scleroderma.

More than one disorder may be present at the same time. A diffuse pulmonary interstitial disease and chronic obstructive lung disease may exist at the same time. Obstructive apnea syndromes may lead to a nocturnal hypoxia which can exacerbate any underlying problems with hypoxemia. In addition to this, intercurrent infections can lead to a transient hypoxemia and likewise, exacerbate underlying problems.

Early in its deliberations, the Committee decided to expand this question to include "What severity of chronic respiratory diseases are likely to lead to cor pulmonale?"

A 1984 review found that an increased likelihood of pulmonary hypertension occurred in patients with severe respiratory obstruction ( $FEV_{1.0} < 70\%$  and  $DLCO < 70\%$  predicted) or severe respiratory restriction ( $FVC < 40\%$  and  $DLCO < 60\%$  predicted) (8). Arterial oxygen saturation  $< 85\%$  was also an indicator of possible pulmonary hypertension.

More recently, Shivkumar (9) has correlated pulmonary function data with right ventricular wall thickness, right ventricular dilatation and pulmonary hypertension in patients with a pure restrictive ventilatory impairment, using 2D and M-mode echocardiography with pulsed Doppler ultrasound. Shivkumar reports normal pulmonary artery pressure in patients with a forced vital capacity greater than 60% predicted. This would translate into the respiratory impairment classification of the American Medical Association Guide to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment of a normal pulmonary artery pressure in patients with a Class 1 or Class 2 impairment (less than 25% impairment of the whole body) (10).

2. How long does it take the respiratory disease(s) in question to progress to cor pulmonale?

There is a general lack of reports to provide evidence about the time for chronic respiratory disease to progress to cor pulmonale. There is unclear progression of the respiratory disease to the onset of pulmonary hypertension and from pulmonary hypertension to cor pulmonale.

The hemodynamics of early cor pulmonale are characterized by elevations in pulmonary vascular resistance and elevations in mean pulmonary artery pressure. Sustained increase in the pulmonary vascular resistance is caused by hypoxemia-induced vasoconstriction and/or obliteration of the small pulmonary arteries and arterioles. This results in pulmonary hypertension. Sustained hypoxemia (partial pressure of oxygen in arterial blood (PaO<sub>2</sub>) of 55 mm Hg or less, or arterial oxygen saturation (SaO<sub>2</sub>) of 88 % or less (6) causes anatomic changes in the vascular bed that are generally irreversible. If arterial oxygen saturation is less than 85%, then 93% of COLD patients and 100% of patients with fibrosing alveolitis have pulmonary hypertension (5). As pulmonary arterial pressure increases and the workload of the right ventricle increases, right ventricular hypertrophy develops (cor pulmonale).

Hence, the primary event preceding the development of cor pulmonale is pulmonary hypertension. Pulmonary hypertension is considered to be a precursor condition in the development of cor pulmonale. It is clear that follow-up is required once pulmonary hypertension is diagnosed to watch for signs of right ventricular failure. However, the benefit of early treatment of pulmonary hypertension with early detection has not been demonstrated.

Some studies show shorter survival in patients with chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and high pulmonary artery pressure compared to those with lower pulmonary artery pressure (11).

Some information comes from a report of progression of pulmonary artery pressure at <1mm Hg per year in patients with chronic obstructive lung disease (COLD)(12). Another study found that untreated pulmonary hypertension in patients with chronic obstructive lung disease progressed an average of 3mm Hg per year (11).

Jandova and colleagues found that patients with silicosis and pulmonary hypertension had a mean survival of 7.6 years (13,14). Patients with silicosis, but without pulmonary hypertension, had an average survival of 11.3 years.

Widimsky, who was involved in the WHO studies of non-invasive diagnosis of pulmonary hypertension is of the opinion that it may exist for a considerable time before right ventricular hypertrophy develops (5).

Investigators in studies of pulmonary artery pressure data tend to select patients with suspected pulmonary hypertension before cardiac catheterization. Most studies do not provide a time from the absence of pulmonary hypertension to the detection of enlargement of the right ventricle.

Thus in summary, patients with diagnosed pulmonary hypertension should be followed for development of cor pulmonale. However, available studies do not provide information on which to base an estimate of the time for chronic respiratory disease(s) to progress to cor pulmonale.

3. Is it possible to distinguish work- and non-work-related cor pulmonale through medical assessments, and, if so, how?

As Fishman notes, after age 50 cor pulmonale is the most common cardiac disorder except for coronary and hypertensive heart disease and most of these instances (of cor pulmonale) are secondary to obstructive disease of the airway and subsequent pulmonary hypertension that follows. Cor pulmonale is found in about half of COLD patients at autopsy (7). COLD of occupational origin (6, 15) is difficult to measure in the presence of non-occupational confounding exposure to tobacco smoke: however, it is likely that COLD of occupational origin affects both smokers and nonsmokers (16).

While monitoring can provide evidence to establish the existence of cor pulmonale, monitoring will not in itself provide evidence to distinguish between work and non-work-related disease.

Chronic cor pulmonale does not vary with the cause. Thus, medical assessments of the heart and pulmonary vessels cannot identify the cause of the abnormalities. The likelihood of cor pulmonale developing depends on the severity of the underlying chronic respiratory condition. Any restrictive or obstructive pulmonary disease of sufficient severity can lead to chronic cor pulmonale. Whether the pre-existing respiratory condition is work-related will already have been determined by the Board, as the focus of the original IDSP Report on Cor Pulmonale was on workers already receiving permanent disability awards for respiratory impairment.

4. What is the treatment for cor pulmonale apart from treatment of the underlying respiratory condition?

The reader is referred to Table 5. Not included in this list is lung transplantation, which, although an heroic measure, has been used successfully. The diagnosis of cor pulmonale indicates poor prognosis. It is uncertain whether the impairment of the right ventricle is a predictor of mortality or whether cor pulmonale merely parallels the severe ventilatory abnormalities seen in these patients. It is uncertain then that management of cor pulmonale is any more than management of the severe underlying respiratory disease. Since hypoxemia is a root cause of pulmonary arterial hypertension, treatment of the underlying condition which has led to the hypoxia, along with supportive measures to correct respiratory infection, arrhythmia, features of fluid overload, etc. is essential.

Oxygen therapy for pulmonary hypertension and cor pulmonale, especially in obstructive lung disease, is a standard treatment (17,18). Oxygen treatment relieves hypoxic vasoconstriction in patients with cor pulmonale and is analogous to the use of vasodilators in patients with hypertension and left ventricular hypertrophy.

The majority of patients who are chronically hypoxic should receive a minimum of 18 hours of oxygen therapy a day (see Table 6). Patients who have early nocturnal oxygen desaturation are candidates for overnight rather than continuous (18 to 24 hours a day) oxygen supplementation. Other potential causes of hypoxia such as sleep apnea should be reviewed and corrected if possible.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS

Although the Committee's initial mandate was to recommend methods to diagnose chronic cor pulmonale, the Committee of necessity, expanded its mandate to include not just cor pulmonale, but the recognized precursor condition of pulmonary artery hypertension.

The Committee reviewed information about the available non-invasive investigations for pulmonary artery hypertension and cor pulmonale. It also reviewed which workers with compensable chronic respiratory diseases would be at risk of developing pulmonary artery hypertension and cor pulmonale. As a result of those deliberations, the Committee suggests the following to the Occupational Disease Panel:

MONITORING OF WORKERS WITH COMPENSABLE RESPIRATORY DISEASE FOR PULMONARY HYPERTENSION AND COR PULMONALE

WHO? Screen all workers with a compensable respiratory disease with a respiratory disability or impairment equivalent to Class 3 or 4 respiratory impairment according to the AMA Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairment.

WHEN? For those workers being followed for a pneumoconiosis claim, this may be most conveniently done at the recommended follow-up as prescribed in Appendix II. If a pre-bill 162 claim was not recommended for regular follow-up, then every two years.

If post-bill 162, the screening could most conveniently be done prior to the first Non-economic loss (NEL) assessment.

HOW? 2-dimensional echocardiogram with Doppler flow study. It is assumed that some additional testing will be available on file as well, such as simple spirometry, pulmonary function tests, ECG, chest x-ray and/or arterial blood gases.

The AMA Guides do not contain specific guidelines for assessing impairment due to cor pulmonale. The AMA Guides do indicate that where there are two or more impairments, the Combined Values Chart of the AMA Guides should be used for combining the impairments. The AMA Guide indicates that "the physician should look for evidence of cor pulmonale which may be associated with conditions such as chronic bronchitis and emphysema and with chronic diffuse interstitial disease of sufficient severity. The physician should determine impairment of the cardiovascular system which should be combined with the impairment rating for pulmonary diseases according to the Combined Values Chart".

It is apparent that guidelines will have to be developed for evaluating cor pulmonale that can be applied to both pre and post-Bill 162 claims. For post-Bill 162 claims, the impairment for cor pulmonale should be combined with other impairments using the Combined Values Chart as described above.

UNDER SECTION 84.13 OF THE ACT

1. In this Regulation,

"class" means a class established under section 3.

2. (1) This Regulation applies with respect to real property located within the County of Oxford.

(2) This Regulation applies with respect to the assessment to be shown on the assessment roll for 1995 for the taxation year 1996 and on the assessment roll for each subsequent year until a new assessment of all property within the county is made in 1999 for the 2000 taxation year.

3. The real property in the county is divided into the classes described in Schedule 1 and each property shall be allocated to the class that most nearly describes the physical nature and characteristics of the property.

4. (1) For the purposes of subsection 84.13 (1) of the Act, the standards described in this section must be considered in equalizing assessments within the classes of real property in the county and in computing the factors resulting from the application of the standards.

(2) The proportion that the county and school board taxes levied for 1995 in each class of real property in a county bears to the total county and school board taxes levied for 1995 in the county must be maintained in such a way that the amount calculated using the formula, the sum of  $A \times B$  by property class for all municipalities within the county that pay county and school board taxes, is substantially the same as the amount calculated using the formula, the sum of  $C \times D$  by property class for all municipalities within the county that pay county and school board taxes, in which,

"A" is the mill rate in each municipality which resulted in the amount of county and school board taxes levied for 1995 against the total assessment in 1995 of all the properties that comprise the class,

"B" is the total assessment in each municipality in 1995 of all the properties that comprise the class,

"C" is the adjusted mill rate which would have resulted in the amount of county and school board taxes levied for 1995 against the total assessment "D", and

"D" is the total assessment in each municipality of all the properties that comprise the class for the 1996 taxation year following the application of the assessment standards described in this section.

(3) All real property within a class in a county must, to the extent possible, be assessed at the same proportion of market value in relation to the base year 1992.

(4) For the purpose of subsection (3), market value is as determined by the assessment commissioner in whose assessment region the real property is located.

(5) The total taxes collected from the taxable real property in the county, including assessments made under section 33 or 34 of the Assessment Act, must not be substantially changed.

(6) The proportion of county and school board taxes paid by each class in the county must not be significantly altered as a result of the application of standards described in this section.

(7) Subsection (6) does not apply with respect to changes in assessment relationships that have resulted from an increase in the total assessment of a class because of assessments made under section 33 or 34 of the Assessment Act.

(8) The total taxes collected from the taxable real property in the municipality for local purposes must not be substantially changed.

5. For the purposes of subsection 84.13 (1) of the Act, the factor to be applied to the market value of property in each class in a municipality, as set out in Column 2 of Schedule 2, is set out opposite it in Column 3.
